Safer travel

- The project description

Airbnb has become a convenient and popular choice for tourists. Safety is one of the main factors people would consider before booking an accommodation, therefore we include the criminal rate into our study. The purpose of our study is to create an application to help people know if the place they are travelling to is safe or not. By analysing the data of the crime rate and the Airbnb location, we can show the users the likelihood of crime that may happen in that specific area in the future.
